

BACKGROUND

Teaching is only department that is owned at Diploma class of English Literature at STBA LIA Jakarta. So, it's so crucial for the student to learn about teaching techniques. Begun from the fourth semester, we were taught about the theories, methods, and teaching practice. We were focussed to teach children. So, from that semester we had to join the must programme special for this department. That's called CEP.

CEP that had to be performed by the students of teaching department students from all classes (S1 and D3) during six months was an abbreviation of Communication English Programme was a short English course for children during three months per periode which performed at our lovely college. The students usually lived nearby the college. After finishing this programme, all teachers would be given a certificate because of their participation. The teachers also had to produce a graduation event after finishing the programme .

Then at the sixth semester, there is a PKL subject that is counted for 4sks. In this subject, the participants would be submitted to do the PKL at the same place or different places in order to learn of teaching in the real place and met the people who worked there to build a good relation. PKL is a main from learning of all theories, techniques and teaching practice during from the fourth semester. This activity is a purpose to prepare the participants are able to teach English after graduation in order to make many people are able to have a good English communication with the four skills (reading, writing, listening and speaking.)
